A last fling at the great outdoors before returning to school, members of the Canadian Army Cadets from Quebec City enjoy the rugged grandeur of the Canadian Rockies from their vantage point on the Bow River at Banff, Alta. In the background is Cascade Mountain. These boys were among the 200 Cadets selected from across Canada to attend the Canadian Army's 4-week National Cadet Camp where they are taught leadership, instructional technique and fieldcraft.

Would They Call Him Mother?

It may never make the Medical Journal but was bound to happen sooner or later. An official letter received recently from Europe committed a prize blooper when it stated in part, "authority is granted to return to Canada on medical grounds (pregnancy) and post him to"

If such an event should occur, we imagine it will have hit the daily papers long before our next deadline.

It Shows in Your Face

You don't have to tell
How you live each day,
You don't have to say
If you work or you play,
For a tried, true barometer
Serves in it's place,
However you like it . . .
It shows in your face.

The false, the deceit
That you bear in your heart,
Will not stay inside
Where it first got it's start,
For sinew and blood
Are a thin veil of lace,
What you wear in your heart
You wear in your face.

If your life is unselfish
If for others you live
For not what you get
But how much can you give,
If you live close to God
In His infinite grace
You don't have to show it . . .
It shows in your face.

EXCHANGE APPOINTMENTS

Col. Deane-Freeman

Col. Schjelderup

Two senior Canadian Army officers will exchange appointments in Ghana and Canada next December.

Colonel D. N. D. Deane-Freeman, CD, of Ottawa and Calgary, will be appointed military advisor to the Canadian high commissioner to Ghana at Accra. He is now director of "Q" operations and planning at Army Headquarters, Ottawa.

Succeeding him will be Colonel V. R. Schjelderup, DSO, MC, CD, of Edmonton and Calgary, who has been serving in Ghana since October, 1961.

Col. Deane-Freeman was commissioned in Lord Strathcona's Horse (Royal Canadians) in 1938. During the invasion of Europe, he landed on the Normandy beaches with the 2nd Canadian Armoured Brigade. During the period 1956-59, he was military attache at the Canadian Embassy in Bonn, Germany.

Col. Schjelderup is a former commanding officer of the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. For outstanding action on "D-Day", while serving with the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, he was awarded the Military Cross. He was decorated with a bar to his MC for bravery as a resistance fighter with the Dutch underground in 1944.

MEET THE SOLDIER APPRENTICE

IN THE DAYS OF THE "OLD SWEAT" THEY WERE "BOY SOLDIERS". — TODAY, MODERNIZED AND STREAMLINED, THEY SERVE APPRENTICESHIP FOR TOMORROW ARMY.

It's a story of progress — from drummer boy to drill sergeant and trumpeter to topographical surveyor for the "boys" of Canadian Army's Soldier Apprentice Plan.

Known as barrack rats, stable boys and many other military epithets in the "good old days", the Canadian boy-soldiers' history is as old as any component of Canadian military service. In 1803, as recorded in the history of the 104th Regiment of Foot (New Brunswick Fencibles), boys were enlisted as buglers, trumpeters and drummers.

More than 125 years later, according to General Order No. 74, dated 1930, "Boys of good character between 14 and 18 years of age may, subject to parent's or guardian's consent, be specially employed in the Canadian Corps of Signals". Opening in other units of the Non-Permanent Active Militia as signallers, drummers, buglers and trumpeters are also recorded in this Canadian Army order.

It can be quickly noted that today's more comprehensive plan has a great deal more to offer.

For the past 11 years they have been affectionately referred to as "the little green monsters" from the green bands worn on the shoulder to distinguish them from the more mature members of the Army. But this cross-section of clean-cut Canadian youth does not stay green long and even the toughest Army instructor would hesitate to call them monsters.

They are soldier apprentices — youths who have reached the age of 16 and have been accepted for specialized training in Army trades in six corps schools across Canada. The Army is singularly proud of the achievements made by more than 4,000 that have been enrolled since 1952.

TO OTTAWA

EDMONTON — Captain Albert Brown, CD, of Oakville, Ont., has been appointed Assistant Chief Inspector of Bands at Army Headquarters, Ottawa. He assumed his new appointment earlier this month.

Capt. Brown originally enlisted in the 48th Highlanders of Canada in 1940. He served with various bands overseas in the United Kingdom, Italy and Northwest Europe, and later with the Canadian Occupation Force.

Returning to Canada in 1946, Capt. Brown served with the Royal Canadian Regiment band at London, Ont., until 1949 when he was selected to attend the Royal Military School of Music, Kneller Hall, England. On graduating in 1951 he was appointed Director of Music of the PPCLI Band at Calgary. Two years later he was named Director of Music of the RCE Band at Camp Chilliwack, B.C.

Capt. Brown was appointed Inspector of Bands for Western Command in August, 1961.

Ryerson Trophy To Local Unit

Two Canadian Army Militia medical units have added new pieces of silverware to their trophy cases — they're "tops" when it comes to training and efficiency. That's what a recent nation-wide competition sponsored by the Defence Medical Association revealed.

Top honours went to Edmonton's No. 23 Medical Company, RCAMC, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel H. A. Schwarz. For its excellent state of efficiency the unit was awarded the Ryerson Trophy, named for the founder of the DMA, Colonel George S. Ryerson.

Runner-up and winner of the Shillington Trophy was No. 13 Medical Company, RCAMC, of Owen Sound, Ont., under command of Lieutenant-Colonel D. W. Dyer. The Owen unit was the top winner in 1956.

This trophy was donated by Lieutenant-Colonel A. T. Shilling-

CADETS RETURN HOME

BANFF, Alta. — The Canadian Army's National Cadet Camp at Banff, Alta., is over for another year.

The 4-week camp period officially ended recently when Brigadier G. C. Leech, Commander of the Army's Alberta Area, visited the camp to present final awards to the cadets and wish them well on their return trips to homes across Canada.

Accompanying the Brigadier during the inspection of cadets was the Honorable Roy McNeill, Jamaican Minister of Home Affairs who was visiting the 24 Jamaican Army Cadets attending the Canadian Cadet Camp.

Awards were then presented by

Brig. Leech to individuals and teams of cadets for their performances on sport day held during the final week of camp. Main awards, however, were for best athlete, best Canadian Cadet and best Jamaican Cadet. White stesons were presented with these awards as a token of Western Canada's hospitality.

A march-past by the cadets followed the presentation of awards with Brig. Leech taking the salute.

Mr. McNeill then addressed the Jamaican Cadets on parade and met each one individually. He congratulated them on the way they had conducted themselves in Canada, indicating they were a credit to their homeland.

Present Awards To Visiting Cadets

Brigadier G. C. Leech, Commander Alberta Area, presents awards to members of the Jamaican Army Cadets at conclusion of the Banff National Cadet Camp.

Appointed To Command HQ

EDMONTON — Major R. F. Evans, CD, of Toronto, Ont., was appointed deputy command supplies and transport officer at Headquarters, Western Command, Edmonton on August 1.

An officer of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, Maj. Evans leaved 19 Company RCASC, Whitehorse, P.T., where he has been commanding officer since 1961.

EVER THUS

Willie was doing penance in the corner. Presently he thought aloud pensively.

"I can't help it if I'm not perfect," he sighed. "I never heard of but one perfect boy anyway."

"Who was that?" asked his mother thinking to point a moral.

"Papa," came the silencing reply, "when he was little."

Spurred by success of the plan, the intake of an additional 500 began in April and will extend through to September. The Army demands of the boys at least grade eight education and promises in return to those who can meet the standards, a trades qualification, military training at Army pay up to two additional years of high school in selected subjects including mathematics, the sciences and English.

Today the Royal Regiment of Canadian Artillery, the Royal Canadian Corps of Engineers, The Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, The Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, The Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps and the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers list a choice of trade that range from clerk to radio technician.

They may qualify for trades in topographical survey, electronics, plumbing, carpentry mechanics and telecommunications to name a few, as well as the continuation of academic studies. High school education under civilian teachers is guided by the department of education in the province in which they serve. Military instruction on a half-day basis is given by selected officers and NCOs, of the Regular Army.

Since the present plan's inception in 1952, some have reached the rank of captain and lieutenant. Many are sergeants, corporals and "tops" in the trade of their choice.

This year's intake began enrolling on April 17. One hundred French-speaking boys began their first year of training and English language study on August 19 at Longue Pointe, Montreal at the RCOC School. The remaining 400 will go to corps schools at Kingston, and Camp Borden, Ont., Camp Shilo, Man., and Camp Chilliwack, B.C., Sept. 16 to begin building their careers.

Initial training is confined mainly to academic subjects which raises the educational level near the junior matriculation mark. Certain aptitude tests determine the selection for trades courses which are then conducted side by side with their high school education.

Pay for the first year is approximately half that of a private recruit or $60.00 a month. The following year it is increased to Regular Army recruit pay of $112.00 a month. Trades pay can eventually be added to this.

The apprentice trainees have finer living quarters and dining facilities than the best in boarding schools—but the discipline is stronger. They wear normal army issue uniforms except for green shoulder tabs, and participate in military training and discipline with the gusto of guardsmen. In addition they are allowed 30 days annual leave and special Christmas leave like soldiers of the Regular Force.

"It's the age of good fun and games, and they are always ready to joke and laugh despite the rigors of Army life," said one instructor in summing up the "Boys" attitude to military life.

After two years the soldier apprentices join units of the Regular Army for an additional three or more years of service.

"I'd like to go back and instruct soldier apprentices" said 21-year-old Corporal Frank Wheaden, of Walton, N.S. He enlisted as one in 1958 and has worked under Yugoslav, Swedish, Brazilian and Indian officers as a clerk with the United Nations Emergency Force in Egypt.

"I wouldn't have done it any other way, and I'd do it again" said Lance Sergeant Patrick McBride of Saint John, N.B., from his post at the Camp Rafah message centre on the Gaza Strip.

Lieutenant Lawrence Leach of Kimberley, B.C., enlisted under the plan in 1954, and is now officer in charge of the Port Storage Depot in Port Said, Egypt. Similar plaudits are being voiced in the Congo, and Germany.

"I didn't think soldier apprentice training would lead to a commission so quickly. If more young men knew about it, I am sure they would take advantage of the plan", said Second Lieutenant J. A. A. L. Seguin of Montreal, a platoon commander in a transport company at Camp Gagetown, N.B.

At the age of twenty-one and as five-year veterans of the Army the "boys are free to return to civilian life—better equipped to meet the needs of business and industry. Or they may, as career-minded "regulars", continue to serve in Canada's Army.

being another letter from Myrt (a clued up character) to her former neighbour, and best friend.
Dear Kit:

Well how have you been? Things are "as usual" around our joint! (You know... Sheila has the mumps... Jimmie's got his arm in a cast... I'm sure I've got a cracked vertebrae... and FATHER... well he's worst of all — says he just can't sleep nights — (Frankly, I think he keeps waking himself up with those terrible belches — and no wonder after he's eaten a fried onion sandwich before he hits the sack.)

You remember the Delahunts? I see Tom Delarunt every morning now. He pedals his bike over to our house and then hitches a ride in our car with George. They work in the same building.

"What happened to Tom's car? Well, I should know — I have to listen to Tom crying the blues about it every morning."

Actually I can't blame him. He lost over a thousand simoleans on a car deal. You remember how Marge Delahunts screaming about Tom's posting to Churchill? They left here about two weeks after you did, driving their own car as far as Winnipeg. Tom sold the car to a dealer there on a credit note.

Have you ever seen one of these credit note deals? This one was a real dandy. In fact, Tom got two credit notes for his car — both for $550. I guess he didn't read the credit notes too closely. To hear him tell it, this dealer (a real honest-looking fella, according to Tom) gave him some glib explanation that, if you took two credit notes instead of one, it would be easier to sell them — but if he wanted to use them to buy a car, the dealer would take both credit notes as the down-payment.

This sounds all very confusing. Of course, Georgie says even a fool could understand it — (I guess that's why Georgie didn't have any trouble figuring it out).

Anyway, Tom got two credit notes of $550, each — which I make to be a total of $1,100. These credit notes had to be used within two years, and it was printed on the credit notes that they must be used on the purchase of a car at a price of $3,500 or over. This would mean the Delahunt's would have to buy two cars in order to use the credit notes at $3,500. — and that's a lot of pfennigs, chum!

This would have been bad enough — but when the time came to buy his new car Tom found that, even to use one of the credit notes for $550., he would lose money. The dealer was asking $3,900, for the same car that could be bought through another dealer for $2,700... in other words the dealer who gave the credit notes hiked the price on the car by $1,200. As my Georgie says, the dealer had the whip hand. (Now there's a statement for you — trust Georgie to get to the meat of the matter!)

When Tom put up the big beef, the dealer said he would allow him to use both credit notes for $1,100, and this would bring the price of the car down to $2,800. This dealer was a real highbinder — as you can see. Even allowing Tom to use both credit notes he still was charging him $100 more than Tom would have to pay for the same car through another dealer in the same city without a credit note at all.

What really happened, of course, was that after losing $1,100 the Delahunt's couldn't afford to buy a car! They had planned on using the credit notes as a down-payment which should have brought the price down to about $1,600. They could have financed this amount. As it is, they got swindled out of $1,100... so Tom is riding a two-wheeled bicycle... and is having trouble keeping up the payments on that! (He couldn't sell the credit notes — in fact, he couldn't give them away).

Do you remember the time that little Sheila told the teacher in the "current affairs" class that the big news of the week was that a certain sergeant had got looped up and threw the Thanksgiving turkey through the living room window — and the teacher said "Sheila, that's not news", and Sheila replied "If you lived on our street you'd say it was!" Well anyway, the big news around the PMQ area this month has been how the Delahunts got nailed by the car dealer on the credit notes.

I don't say that all credit note are lousy — but it does seem that you're at the dealers mercy when you want to buy another car. I mean — what's to stop him from jacking up the price on you!

Georgie says when the time comes for us to trade cars, he is going to paint up the old buggy and sell it for cash — and then go down and haggle for a two-year-old car that somebody else has paid the depreciation on. What's more Kit, this is exactly

WHAT HE IS GOING TO DO — but what he doesn't realize is that I am going to be in the background making sure he doesn't get us flummoxed in another of his big deals!

Best regards.

There is still time to do more outdoor barbecue cooking, so let's get a few more charcoal briquets and commence cooking out in the back yard.

BARBECUED CHICKEN HALVES

Allow half a chicken per serving, brush chicken halves with sauce, arrange hot briquets for grill barbecuing. Lay chicken on grill close to coals. Cook chicken over medium heat moving it about three inches from the briquets. Brush chicken with more sauce and turn often; barbecue until done or about 25 to 35 minutes depending on size.

HOT BARBECUE SAUCE (for above)

2 tbsp. butter or margarine	1/2 tsp. tabasco sauce
1 med. onion, chopped	1 tbsp. brown sugar
1 clove garlic (minced)	1 tsp. salt
1/3 cup catsup	1 tsp. dry mustard
2 tbsp. vinegar	1/4 cup water.

Combine all ingredients in saucepan; bring to boil. Store in covered jar in refrigerator or until needed. Yield 1 1/4 Cups.

BUNDLED POTATOES

On a 10" square of aluminum foil, place one potato cut into 1/2" slices, a 1/4" slice of onion, a tablespoon butter or margarine. Season, fold and twist foil to cover. Bake on hot coals or on grill 45 minutes.

CORN ON THE COB

Open outer covering of corn to remove silk. Replace husks. Cook on grill or in hot coals. Here's another trick; remove husks, dip corn in water. Wrap corn in foil and cook on grill or in coals. Allow 10 to 20 minutes.

TERIYAKIS HAWAIIAN (Kabobs)

3 - 4 lbs. Tenderloin. Sirloin or top	1/3 cup soy sauce
round 3/4" - 1" thick	1 tsp. ground ginger
1 can pineapple chunks	1/2 tsp. garlic salt
Syrup from pineapple

Cut steak into 48 cubes. Drain pineapple and retain syrup, then make marinade by combining last five ingredients in a shallow dish large enough to accommodate meat. Add: steak cubes and let stand at room temperature for one hour; turn once. Drain meat and thread on skewer sticks alternately with pineapple chunks, 3 of each to an 8" stick.

Broil or cook over coals, turning frequently, until meat is brown on all sides and done to satisfaction. Makes 16 and serves 8.

CART-WHEEL BANANAS

Leave peel on firm bananas: cut in diagonal slices about 3/4 inch thick. Dip cut ends in lemon juice, the dunk in mixture of brown sugar and cinnamon.

Thread on skewers. (Going through skin), alternating with quartered oranges slices (thick and unpeeled). Broil until hot through and banana peel turns brown.

DONUT HOLES

Cut refrigerated biscuits (from a tube) in thirds, and roll each piece into ball. String on skewers, leaving about 1/2 inch between balls. "Bake" over hot coals, turning constantly until browned and completely done about 7 minutes. At once push off skewers into melted butter or margarine; roll in cinnamon sugar mixture. Eat right away. One tube of refrigerated biscuits makes 30.

Realism Highlighted - 1963 Wainwright Concentration

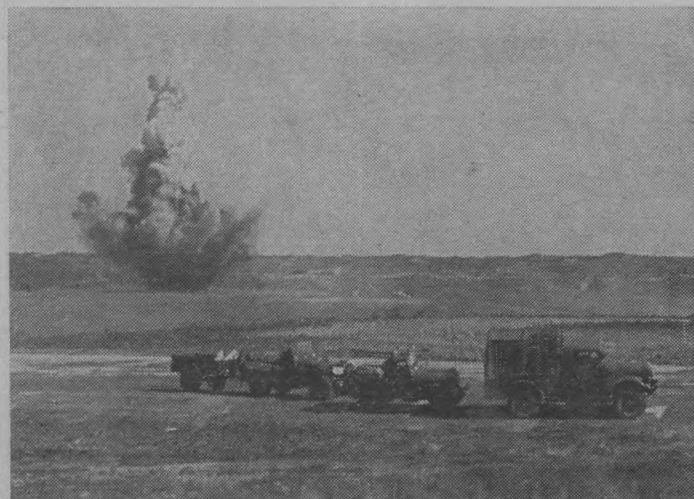

STAFF OFFICERS PREVIEW COMMING ACTION

While visiting units in the field at Camp Wainwright during this summer's annual concentration, Maj.-Gen. J. M. Rockingham, General Officer Commanding Western Command, discusses training with Lieut.-Col. L. O. A. Woodcock, Commanding Officer, 1st Battalion, Royal 22e Regiment. The "Van Doos" arrived in Wainwright to participate in Exercise "Vol Ouest" ("Flight West" for the Royal 22nd) early in June, and remained under command of the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade Group for the brigade's annual summer concentration. From left are, Capt. J. G. L. Lefebvre, Maj. John N. Edwards, DAQMG Western Command, Lieut.-Col. Woodcock, Lieut.-Col. C. J. A. Hamilton, GSO 1 Western Command, Major General Rockingham and Brig. B. F. Macdonald, Commander 1 CIBG.

AIR RECONNAISSANCE SPEEDS EVALUATION

An Army helicopter in a reconnaissance flight over the Camp Wainwright ranges.

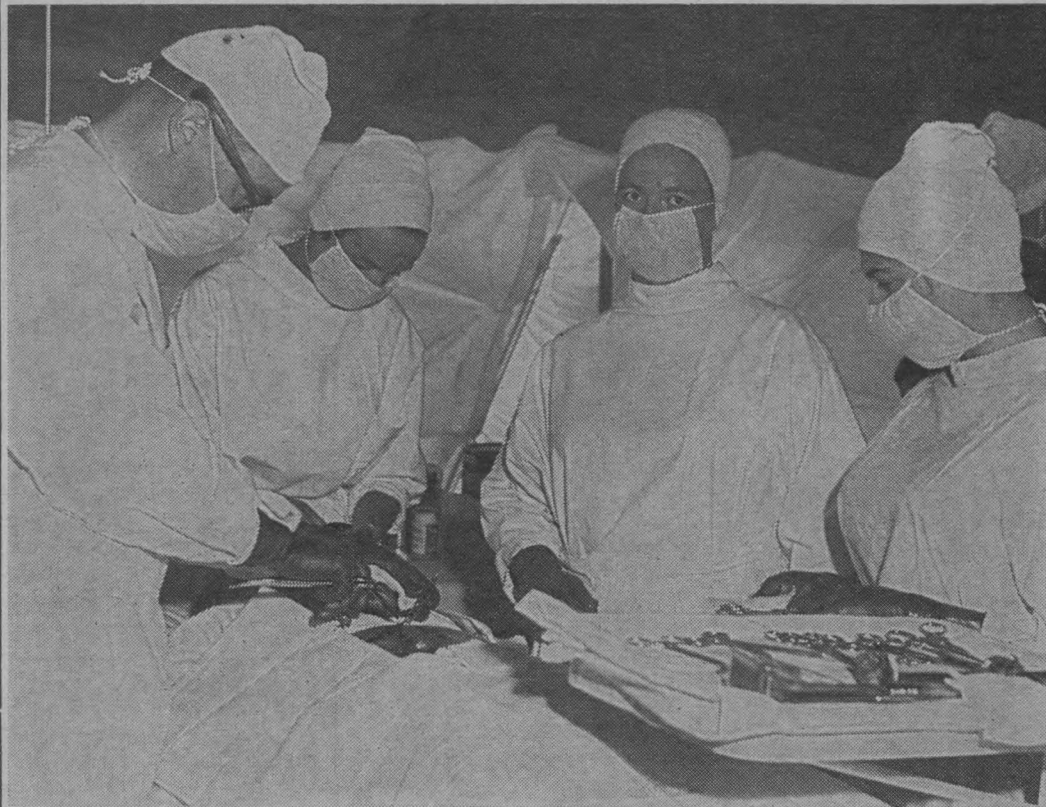

THE BIRTH OF A "MUSHROOM"

Simulated atomic explosions were used during Exercise "Gallant Run" which ended 1 CIBG's annual summer concentration at Camp Wainwright.

Each year additional interest is injected into annual training by the adoption of current international affairs to local surroundings. This method of training brings today's soldier into direct contact with the problems he might encounter in his day to day employment around the world.

Ever ready for field casualties - the R.C.A.M.C.

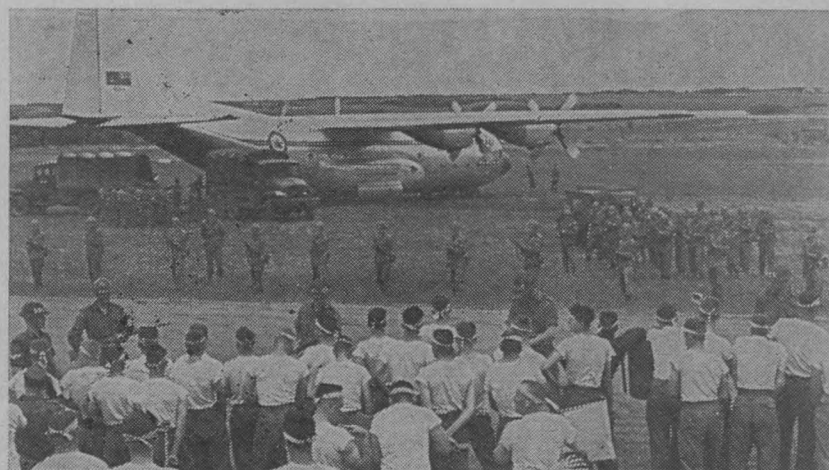

Simulated operations under field conditions were carried out by members of Calgary's 3 Field Ambulance, RCAMC, during the summer concentration. Realism was injected by the clever use of make-up materials in simulating wounds.

Observing Progress Provides Future Lessons

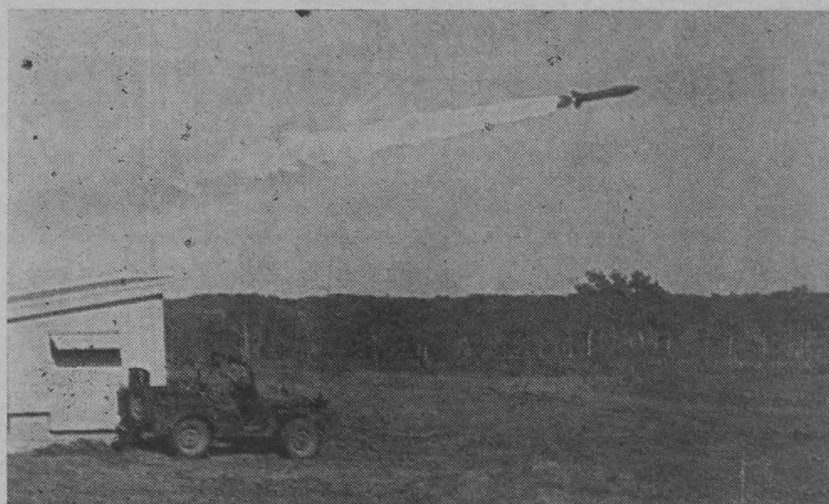

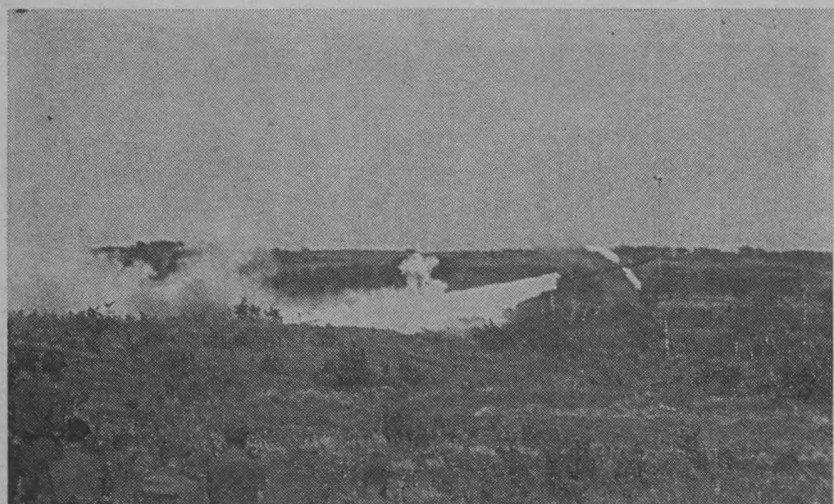

Maj. Gen. J. M. Rockingham, Exercise Director of "Gallant Run", the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade Group's final exercise of the summer concentration, looks over the ground with the commander of his "enemy" force, General Brownovitch (Lieut.-Col. G. G. Brown, Commanding Officer, 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.).

Policing Action A Prime Function of Modern Army

During Canada's U.N. Standby Battalion Internal Security Exercise "Vol Ouest" early in June, exercise "population demonstrators from the 2nd Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada gave members of the standby battalion, the 1st Battalion, Royal 22e Regiment, and visiting "VIPs" a hard time. Here they show their animosity towards a visiting member of the United Nations driving from Camp Wainwright's airport to confer with officials who are attempting to maintain the peace. Demonstrators (right) at Camp Wainwright's airport are held in check by "local" police (members of Calgary's 1 Provost Platoon) and troops from Canada's U.N. Standby Battalion, the 1st Battalion Royal 22e Regiment, during Exercise "Vol Ouest," an Internal Security operation which took place at Camp Wainwright early in June.

Demonstrate Latest Artillery Function

An Honest John Artillery Rocket in two separate stages of flight. The rocket in these photos was fired by the 2nd Surface to Surface Missile Battery from Camp Shilo, Man., at the all-arms exercise held at Camp Wainwright, July 5th, 1963.

British Troops Add International Flavour To Exercises

A Squadron of Life Guards from Combermere Barracks, Windsor, England, trained with the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade Group during this summer's annual concentration at Camp Wainwright. Here 2/Lt. W. R. A. S. Law of Windsor, Berks, armoured car commander, and driver Trooper Daniel Townsley of Normacot, Longton, participate in a squadron exercise. The Right Honourable Viscount Amory, British High Commissioner to Canada, visited the Squadron during their training. Here at right he is seen chatting with a Life Guard Trooper.

For Variation — A Track and Field Meet In the Field of Sport — A Winner

The annual Track and Field meet is a highlight of training and sports activities during the concentration. Included in the day's activities is a forced march competition, and here Brig. B. F. Macdonald presents the forced march competition trophy to 2/Lt. D. Montgomery who led his platoon from "B" Company of the 2nd Bn. Queen's Own Rifles of Canada to victory in the gruelling competition.

L/Cpl. Allan Turner of Calgary, a member of the 2 QOR of C, sails up and over the bar to set a new Canadian Army record for the pole vault by clearing eleven feet nine inches during the Brigade's Track and Field Meet at Wainwright this summer.

Great Books Participation Invites Griesbach - Namao Discussion Group

The newly formed first year Great Books Discussion Group will be holding its first meeting on Wednesday, September 11, 1963, at 8:30 p.m. in the Children's Room of the Main Branch of the Edmonton Public Library. The members of the Griesbach and Namao camps are most cordially invited to attend, said Mrs. Leslie Walker, President of the Great Books Council of Edmonton.

The group will meet every two weeks for 16 sessions to discuss such important contributions to western thought and literature as Aristotle's Politics, Shakespeare's Macbeth and Aler de Toqueville's Democracy in America. No special academic background is required, only an interest in free and meaningful discussion.

If Wednesday is convenient, the second year group which is holding its first meeting in the Children's Room at 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday, September 10, 1963, will gladly welcome new members. Interested people are asked to call the Department of Extension, University of Alberta, 439-8721, Ext. 341, for further information.

MARKSMEN MEDAL FOR

A Queen's Medal to be awarded annually to the best rifle shot in the Regular Army has been approved by Her Majesty The Queen. This medal is in addition to the two Queen's Medals for Canadian service marksmen already in existence.

In previous competitions, Regular Army soldiers competed against members of the Militia and Royal Canadian Mounted Police, while the Royal Canadian Air Force rifle shots had a Queen's Medal of their own.

Commencing this year, Regular Army marksmen will compete among themselves for a Queen's Medal, the Militia and RCMP will shoot-off for one, and the RCAF continue to have their own rifle match for the prize.

Competitors feel the acquisition of the additional medal will stimulate interest in service rifle shooting in the militia and improve standards of shooting in the Regular Army.

The medal was first awarded in 1896 for the best shot in the British Army, but in 1883 the competition lapsed. In 1923 King George V revived the competition and granted a number of medals in the Commonwealth and Empire. The Canadian Forces were granted two medals — one for the Army and RCMP, and one for the RCAF.

THE SWAP SHOP

For the benefit of new arrivals in camp, and for those not familiar with the Swap Shop, the following are pertinent data and rules of operation:

- ★ The Swap Shop is located in the south end of the Library building, and is open each Monday from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. and 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.
- ★ The purpose of the Swap Shop is to serve as a place where good, used clothing and articles may be sold, with 10% of the sale price retained as a donation to the Griesbach Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies.
- ★ The staff is volunteer, non-paid.
- ★ Clothing and articles brought for sale must be in good useable condition, and the clothing must be clean.
- ★ Articles may be freely donated if desired.
- ★ Footwear is not accepted, except for ice-skates and children's rubber or over-boots.
- ★ The staff will advise on, and come to an agreed sale price. If the article is not sold within two months of receipt, the staff reserves the right to reduce the price until a saleable price is reached. All articles not sold after three months may be given to charity.

- ★ Articles may be withdrawn by the owner at any time within the three months, but right of claim is forfeited after three months unless the article is still in the shop.
- ★ Some items brought in may not be accepted for sale, as experience has shown that many articles, particularly in the ladies' clothing line are unsaleable at almost any price.
- ★ All items left for sale in the Swap Shop will be left at the owner's risk.
- ★ Any enquiries or helpful suggestions may be directed to either Mrs. Charles GR 9-8998, or Mrs. Saunders GR 7-8212.

Summer business has been very slow, due not only to fewer customers but to a lack of attractive seasonable items. The success of the Shop depend on both customer interest and a steady influx of good quality items. Please remember that our business is seasonable as in any retail outlet, and summer clothing brought in now will have little market. We have no storage facilities, our shop is small, and space is at a premium. Items that we need now are snow-suits, winter jackets, children's slacks, sweaters, skirts, etc., and all types of baby clothing and equipment.

GRIESBACH TENNIS CLUB

The Griesbach Tennis Club has lost several of its regular players over the past summer. The tennis playing doctor, Capt. Derik Rogers, has left for the West Coast to take up civilian practice. Major Bob Storey, Area Paymaster, has been posted to Germany. Capt. Al Pollock has left the Army for a job as a civilian engineer, and the members miss he and his wife. Capt. and Mrs. A. Brown have gone to Ottawa, and Capt. P. A. Dailyde, the dentist, has gone to work for the RCN at Esquimalt. And now the rumor that Capt. Joe Devlin is to be posted very soon to 2 RCHA Winnipeg.

To offset the loss in the 'old guard' several new members have joined the Club. These include Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. D. A. Harper, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. W. S. Hamilton, Father (Capt) M. Labrie just returned from the Congo, Major Fred Evans just returned from Whitehorse, Major J. C. Whalley, and Lieut. and Mrs. Don Mandzuk.

Now the good weather is here, the courts are continually busy, and often Lieut.-Col. Pilley and his wife and children, and Lieut.-Col. Hamilton and his wife and children can be seen playing long into the evening. It is also encouraging to see the interest many of the junior members are taking in tennis this summer, especially Jim Hamilton, Jim Leech, Leslie Hennie and Ron Falconer.

The Club hopes to conduct a Round Robin Tournament in September, which will include all members (Seniors and Juniors) and will be composed of mixed doubles and mens' doubles with the players "seeded" to make competing teams as evenly matched as possible. At the end of the tournament it is hoped to serve refreshments, and if finances allow, inexpensive prizes may be provided.

Instruction for juniors is held at 1330 hrs. each Saturday and the numbers attending over the past month has averaged about twenty-five each week. It is encouraging to see so many youngsters interested in learning to play tennis, and in order to maintain this interest, it is intended to carry on this instruction through the winter months when normal club play will have moved into the Drill Hall.

Through the hard work of the DAAG HQ Alta Area (Major J. C. Whalley), the Club is trying to organize an Army Match, comprising mens' doubles and singles with Calgary Garrison. If it comes off, it may be the beginning of competition tennis within Western Command.

STATION NAMAOW PEE-WES'S

TOP SERIES

Recently fame was brought to Lancaster Park by a group of young men.

The Pee Wee team won the City Championship by nosing out the 1962 victors, Hazeldean, of the South Side.

Under the able leadership of Al Shaw and Jack Witter, the baseball team never lost a game during the season.

Line-up for the last game was:
Pitchers — Derek Harker, Bob Campbell, Ken Gregoire.

Catcher — Rod MacKenlie.

1st Base — Derek Harker or Bob Campbell.

2nd Base — Teddy Treller.

3rd Base — David Bignell.

S.S. — Mike Snider.

Field — George Lamont, Scotty James, Lamar Boisvert, Gordon Bernes and Garry Crowdis.

Away on holidays were Tim Tuck and David McIlvride.

Their success was followed by a party in the Scout Hall, sponsored by Safeway, Namaow Airport Store, Tom Boy and Killarney Drugs. This was followed by a Theatre Pass given by Mr. Stone.

Simpson-Sears is presenting each boy with individual trophy.

GOLFING NOES

The Griesbach Golfing Association is having an excellent year, and as a result the calibre of play is improving with each months tournament and this is indicated by the low net scores being turned in. All those golfers who have been turning in net scores in the 60's can rest assured that the Hadicap Committee have their eagle eye open and will do their best to be sure that this will not happen again. However, I am sure that there are still many dark horses in the race and we can still expect some excellent scores to be turned in during the tournaments yet to come.

In the tournament held in the month of July the major winners were as follows: Capt. Stevenson with a low net of 62 won the individual category. In the Gallopway portion of the tournament Class 'A' was taken by WO 2 Loudon, Class 'B' was by Sgt. McLellan and Class 'C' by S/Sgt. Findlay.

The match play championship is coming along famously and no one team seems to be able to last too long in view of the stiff competition. Major Freeborn, before his departure to Calgary, together with Major Edwards were defeated by Major Wilson and Captain Partridge. Major Wilson and Captain Partridge were then removed from the field by Sgt. Brown and Cpl. Yankus. This two-some were fortunate to continue their winning streak in defeating S/Sgt. Galbraith and Sgt. Thompson. The next challengers on the list are Sgt. Nelson and Sgt. Tuttle to be followed in turn by Major Edwards who has picked up a new partner in Major Labelle.

The Golfing Tournament Committee is looking forward to the next tournament which will probably be held from 25 to 30 Aug. With the funds rapidly accumulating, it is expected that a bang-up final tournament, stag party and distribution of prizes for the year will take place in Oct. Further details of this affair will be advised to all concerned as soon as plans are confirmed.

GRIESBACH CURLING CLUB

Another curling season will soon be here, so it is time to start thinking about when, and with whom to curl. Committee members of the various leagues are particularly advised to "get cracking", days and times desired for league play should be submitted to Capt. Lucas in the Command Accounts

Office.

There is considerable activity around the Club at the present time with some repairs and painting being done. Some renovations are also being made, the most important being a new lighting system and new dividers between the sheets with benches for the weary curlers.

Essay Canadiana

In a recent publication which came to this office, we were amused by the efforts of a ten-year-old boy to describe Canada, in an Essay on Canada Contest. The judges certainly didn't give it top marks, but it was considered the most original. We print it in its entirety from the "Nickelodeon". "I Never Seen a Indian."

"Canada is a place bigger than any place, including Brazil. It has lots of people, some with beards, but I never seen a Indian.

Canada has Niagara Falls and the Rocky Mountains and bears. What I like is swimming and there is lots of places for swimming, some of them with roofs on. But no camels. Canada has no camels.

Canada has mounted police, who walk, and sailors who are on land and ministers who don't preach but talk a lot in the parliament.

Canada has a queen but no king, and the queen lives in Europe. The people are Americans but don't know it. The greatest Canadian is Maurice Richard and there are more girls than boys.

Canada was born on the first of July and the lady who was in charge was called the Great White Mother. Canada invented electricity, the telephone and the C.P.R., but some people drive oxen.. I never seen an oxen..

The most common buildings in Canada are grain places, and Eaton's catalogue is the biggest book."

RETIRES

Major H. D. P. Tighe, MC, CD, of Ottawa and Victoria, has retired from the Regular Army after 24 years service.

An officer of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, he was with the Directorate of Manpower Control and Management at Army Headquarters, Ottawa when he left the service.

After serving in the Non-Permanent Active Militia for five years, Maj. Tighe enlisted in the Canadian Active Service Force on the outbreak of the Second World War. He served with the Loyal Edmonton Regiment in Sicily and Italy where he was awarded the Military Cross.

He was loaned to the British Army in 1945 and sent to Burma where he served until the end of hostilities.

Maj. Tighe served as second-in-command of the 2nd Battalion, PPCLI in Korea from 1950 to 1951. On his return to Canada he attended the Canadian Army Staff College in Kingston, Ont., in 1951-52.

METRO STUDENTS GRADUATE FROM RCAF COURSE

Fifty-eight Edmonton-area high school students graduated Aug. 25th from a two-month course at RCAF Station Namao. Parents and distinguished visitors were invited to the Graduation Parade at which Group Captain W. H. Carr, commanding officer, RCAF Station Namao, took the salute. His Worship Mayor Elmer E Roper headed a group of government officials, high school superintendents and high school principals.

The largest group of trainees in Canada operating under the RCAF Auxiliary Trades Training summer camp program, fifty-three airmen have the distinction of being the only group of trainees to live on an RCAF unit. The airmen, all 16 years of age or older, were living in barracks at Namao while the five airwomen, who are not enrolled until their eighteenth birthday, lived at home.

Forty of the trainees have been trained as mechanics (air) receiving instruction in aero-engines, instruments, electrical systems, airframes and safety equipment. The remainder were trained as clerks and have been taught supply and accounting procedures, typing and other office duties. All students received drill and disciplinary training, as well as trades training. Two days were devoted to nuclear defence training including first-aid and fire-fighting. A full recreational program was conducted including instructional swimming in which students qualified for Red Cross swimming certificates. One of the most popular items on the syllabus was a familiarization flight in a C-119 'Flying Boxcar' of 435 Transport Squadron.

The tenth annual camp has been under the direction of Squadron Leader Ian M. Nicoll who has been on the school's staff for eight years, the last four as commanding officer of 3054 Technical Training Unit. He is assisted by Flying Officer N. A. Sande, chief administrative officer. Five civilian instructors, all holders of journeyman papers and education teaching certificates and regular force RCAF airmen are also on staff.

Enlisted as aircraftmen and aircraftwomen, second class, the students receive full clothing issues and pay of $112.00 per month. Trainees are permitted to draw only $25.00 at each pay parade so that they have a 'nest egg' of approximately $150.00 at the end of the summer. The airwomen, living at home, are given a subsistence allowance of $65.00 per month.
